"When I was asked to speak today, I was faced with the problem of what can one say that is new about a national holiday that has been celebrated for more than a century and a quarter. Perhaps I should start off by what it is not. It is not the first day of spring, it is not a national holiday for the launching of boats and the start of the summer visitors, nor is it a federal holiday for the seniors of Old Rochester to start their graduation celebrations. The history of the holiday is well-known. Founded by General Joshua Logan, the founder of war. Our draft quota was 150 men, and the selectmen were worried that they would have to pay a bonus to get young men to enlist, but by war's end, some 180 had joined up. The town was newly founded, only breaking away from the parent town of Rochester three years before, and the village went from Main Street to Mechanic Street, with the northern edge of the village at Tobey Lane. Records indicate that there were ten Dexters that served (there is a Dexter here today in uniform), 7 Snows, 6 Hammonds, 6 Barstows including one that rose to be a general (his picture is inside the Library). Two Barstows stayed at home, Nathan and Wilson who served as Selectmen, 3 Purringtons served (two as musicians). Of these, some 14 died: 2 Snows, 2 Wilcoxes, a Tinkham, a Barstow; one vet died within a couple of days of coming home. It was hoped that this was the end to warfare, and that the Biblical injunction would hold: 'And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.'

"This was not to be, and in World War I, some 64 people left, plus 7 that went into the Merchant Marine and three women who served in support roles. Note the monument to them next to the Civil War monument here on the library lawn. All came back except one, a woman, Florence Eastman, a nurse (note the gold star) who volunteered to serve, and left to take care of the men who were suffering from the great influenza epidemic. She caught the illness and died.

"By the time of World War Two, large numbers left. Their names are listed inside Town Hall; some died in battle, or were lost at sea, both in Europe and the Pacific, and we remember today the Atsatts, the Bowmans, and others.

"After the Second World War, the holiday started to change, and we now pause to remember those who served but did not die in battle, those who came back, and it is fitting that we remember today Capt. Boyce, Coast Guard Captain, from Holly Woods; Al Morgado, the navy barber who came back to run the town barber shop; Charles Duponte, another Navy veteran; and others. Now we pause to remember all that have gone on from us.

"I suggest that the holiday is still changing and that we should today pause and remember those who stayed behind, who, as in Milton's sonnet, 'They also serve who only stand and wait'. The wives, and children, the mothers and fathers of those who served. When Col. George White went off, he left behind his mother and father, so did Al Heuberger, and there were many more. It is fitting and proper that we remember them.

"Perhaps lastly we should pause and remember our sons and daughters that are currently serving in the nation's defense. It is late afternoon and early evening now as U.S. troops man the Berlin Wall and watch the radar screens in Germany; late afternoon in England where our airmen stand ready at Lakenheath and Middenhall, Fairford and Upper Hayford. It is early morning in the Pacific and the watch is changing on our ships in the Sea of Japan. Let us remember them as well.

"Let me conclude with a quotation from a Coast Guard memorial in Washington, D.C. that perhaps sums it up the best:

'Monuments will weather with time, but the actions of those who served, and the principles for which they stood will never fade, so long as we remember.' Thank you."

Amy Blasdale recited the words that Lincoln wrote on the back of an envelope on the train to the Gettysburg battlefield. These words have since been recognized as a masterpiece of English literature and have become such a part of Memorial Day observances that the very deep meaning of the day is timelessly preserved in these few choice words; as fresh now as they were then.

Commander of Florence Eastman Post John N. DeCosta congratulated Amy on her presentation which was well received by those in attendance.

The Old Rochester Regional High School Band opened the ceremonies by playing Liberty Bell March by Souza, followed by the prayer by Rev. Stanley J. Kolasa SSCC; Trooper Salute by Bou Cook, selection by the high school band; the Gettysburg Address by Amy Blasdale; a selection, Swing Thing by Conley, by the Old Hammondtown School Band; the address by Cdr. M.C. Rosenfield, USCG-R; and concluded with the Star Spangled Ban-

OLD TIRES NEVER DIE--THEY JUST LIE THERE

The problem of old tires at the sanitary landfill will have a solution when a Middleboro company makes Mattaposett the first town in the area to utilize its chopping machine during the month of June, the Board of Selectmen and Board of Health agreed last Tuesday.

Mark P. Mattos, vice president of Vernon Resource Systems, Inc. of Middleboro, met with the joint boards and outlined what his machinery will do to reduce the approximately 2,500 tires, some on rims, at the dump. Mattos said the process will take about two eight hour days with one man and the chopping will be done right on the site.

Mattos was uncertain whether it would take two or three days because the Board of Health wants the brush chopped up, and he said it was impossible to determine how long the brush will take. The board agreed to hire the company for two days at $1,500 per day "and then come annually on a maintenance program". Mattos estimated the chopper will do 500 tires per hour at a cost per tire of 38 cents. The Board of Health asked Mattos to do the work before

July 1st so the cost will come under the present budget.

Health Agent Donald Wood said if "we could get the tire and brush down then we could have this service once a year to keep the debris under control. It's well worth the money," Wood said. Health Board Chairman Evelyn Ellis said at one time there were no tires and no stumps at the dump. Then, "we started picking up tires left on the road. If we do this right we might eliminate finding those tires all over the area."

Mattos explained the material comes out of the machine in chunks or strips and works in a scissors-like action with strips three to seven inches long. Everything will be buryable. "One advantage our company has over others is that the service is portable - we can work right at the dump site and not have to truck it away and bring it back or charge for hauling it away. Our company was formed when all we heard was tires-tires and tires. Many towns cannot afford to purchase their own equipment, so this service came into being. We can also chop up white metal items; namely, stoves and refrigerators." When asked if he had contacted the state about his service, he said he had talked only peripherally with the state. "They have told me they are happy to find anything to dispose of tires."

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH Clarence Fountain, Wayne Walega, and Michael Renzi, members of the Industrial Committee, and Lawrence O'Pezio of the Planning Board to discuss the problem of the access road to the Industrial Park.

Chairman John DeCosta related the information the Board received from a SRPEDD engineer on his recommendation to alleviate the problem. He noted the engineer recommended having a private engineer prepare a general layout of the road and submit it to District 7 of the State Department of Public Works in Taunton for approval. State funds of between $8,000 and $12,000 may be available from Chapter 90 funds for part of the cost.

DeCosta noted John Folino, owner of Cape Building Systems, Inc., and David J. McIntire of Mahoney Building Supply Center, both located in the Industrial Park, have indicated they will assist in raising the $2,500 needed to hire a private engineer.

Fountain said he has observed problems at the site with trucks maneuvering the curve from Route 195 across North Street and into Industrial Drive. He said his committee will work towards getting the preliminary plans drawn and seeing that they are prepared for submittal to the state.

NOTED trailers are permitted in town only any two weeks in a calendar year, and then only with the prior approval of the Selectmen. The building inspector will be notified that there is a trailer parked at Angelica Point in violation.

bard, 4 Chapel Road, asking to be considered for an appointment to the Personnel Board, when there is a vacancy. (There is a vacancy at the present time, following the resignation last week of Roy Andrews.)

His name will be given consideration when an appointment is made, Selectmen noted. Lombard, a former executive secretary to the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen, also served on the Personnel Board that developed the Plan that is now in use. He expressed his opinion that it is time for a complete and comprehensive review of all facets of the Plan. "I would like to offer my expertise in this situation," Lombard wrote.

FILED FOR FUTURE CONSIDERATION a letter from Peter L. Foster informing the Board he would be interested in assisting any group that might be formed to study the many problems regarding our town's waterfront and harbor areas.

NOTED A LETTER was received from Virginia G. Arral with a suggestion that the benches used at the Public Library for the Memorial Day exercises be repaired with the state funds allocated to the town for damage done by Hurricane Gloria. She also suggested that perhaps the labor could be supplied by the students at Old Colony Voke, with the town paying for the materials.

Chairman DeCosta commented the benches usually are taken from Shipyard Park for the holiday exercises for use by the Brownies and the elderly. However, they were badly damaged in the hurricane. The board agreed they should be replaced and will check into any available funds.

PERMISSION was given to Maurice "Mudgie" Tavares to hold the annual Youth Dances on Thursdays on the wharf during the summer months, sponsored by the Mattapoisett Track Club.

DISCUSSED the lack of toilet facilities at Ned's Point Veterans' Park. Selectman James F. Huntoon said, "We encourage people to use the Park. We really should have these facilities open during the day. Now that there is a group of active windsurfers in the area, I'm sure they would welcome these facilities at the Park."

Chairman DeCosta noted "we used to have facilities at the Park, but there was so much damage done, especially at night, that we had to close them." Huntoon responded

Award Named for Joe Tomlinson

In nearly every organization there is at its outset some one person who gives it a breath of life. Then, as the organization grows, that person weaves objectivity into its early fabric so that it expands not only in size but also in depth of vision. Organizations without such beginnings are apt to become narrow in concept whereas those founded with a spirit of fellowship and comraderie are carried forward and upward and the voice of the founder in effect reverberates in a recurring echo.

The late Joe Tomlinson, a founder of St. Gabriel's Men's Fellowship, was such a person. He chaired early meetings and served on its Steering Committee during its formative years bringing warmth and wisdom to its meetings.

In memory of Joe and his contributions, the St. Gabriel's Men's Fellowship has named their annual fellowship in his name. The recipient is selected by vote and given to some person or persons who in the opinion of the selectors has made a notable contribution to fellowship in a broad unselfish sense in the Tri-Town area.

Last year's award was given to Dr. Davis Gallison for his efforts in behalf of "Strength for Tomorrow" for cancer cases.

ANNUAL MEETING SCHEDULED

The annual meeting of the Memorial Society of Greater New Bedford, Inc. will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 10th, at the Smith Mills Christian Congregational Church, 11 Anderson Street, North Dartmouth. The public is invited.

Philip A. Towle of Rindge, N.H., an instructor at the Crotched Mountain Rehabilitation Center in Greenfield, N.H., will speak on "Funeral Arrangements - Have You Been Satisfied with Them?"

What you and she have in common.

The Statue of Liberty's monumental form is taken from the likeness of the human body in posture and in bearing. Both are beautiful; both are subject to structural problems.

The lady of liberty has gone through her period of pain and is now being brought back to health with structural renovation. To support the effort, cooperating doctors of chiropractic throughout the U.S. are contributing funds through the American Chiropractic Association.

Just as the Statue of Liberty fell into disrepair, so health can deteriorate if you do not follow a preventive maintenance program.

Please, for the sake of your health, stop in our clinic for periodic examinations.

Comment on Letter to Editor

The following letter from a reader in Philadelphia, PA. is in response to a recent editorial on attempted Soviet concealment of the nuclear plant disaster of Chernobyl which has placed surrounding countries in danger and has surely doomed thousands of Soviet citizens who were also not advised of the danger. This letter was accompanied by 11 enclosures. Among the titles are "An Atheist Speaks", "God's Heaven from Robert Ripley's 'Believe It or Not'", "Religion is a Gigantic Fraud", "The Golden Rule Vatican Style", "The Ridiculous Concept of Soul", "The Bible and Jesus Myth" and "Christianity's Bloody Record".

It is interesting that the above tracts are written by atheists who claim to be scientific in their study of fact to justify conclusion. They have become jealous students of the Bible in order to debunk it. They quote chapter and verse of passages that contradict each other. They are meticulous in searching out Biblical flaw in order to maintain that the events of the Bible were not based on reality but upon fantasy. These atheists have become Biblical authorities in the attack upon its content. Isn't it interesting that this same intellect, using a penetrating scientific analysis, looks at the Soviet system and finds not myth but paradise. It is also interesting that having found such an ideal Socialist society in the world such an individual will not seek it out but will choose to live in Philadelphia which we all realize is far from perfect.

Letters to the Editor

Editor JASON:

Your enclosed May 7, 1986 "Where are the Marchers?" editorial was sent to me by a friend.

It's obvious from your "tone" that you judge the Soviet Union and its system with a prejudiced mind-set. We (your readers) know how rotten you think the USSR is. Now read the enclosed April 15, 1986 issue of THE WASHINGTON SPECTATOR -- an American newsletter, NOT a "Communist" hand-out--- and see how "wonderful" our own USA government and our capitalist system is (NOT).

How about made-in-USA "International Brigandage and Terrorism" (enclosed herewith?) Is that all "Communist lies" too??

The Soviet system (Socialism, not Communist---yet) includes many virtues and fine features inherent in their one-class society. Such as: No unemployment. Free education for all to the limit of absorption. Mass public transportation that is fast, efficient, clean, safe, comfortable, cheap. No criminality (racketeering,

No pestiferous, parasitical clerical leeches (churchism, religious rackets). Housing that is ridiculously cheap and improving all the time. Early optional retirement. True equality for women even in the highest positions of government and professions. Preferential treatment of children and the aged and handicapped. Automation of arduous jobs, or shorter hours (coal mining, etc.). Streets and parks clean and safe day or night. No vandalism and graffitti problem. Citizen respect for public property. Vanishing taxes. Sports and cultural facilities. Subways that are works of art. Free medical care. Streets uncluttered by cars. Radio and TV fare free of obnoxious singing commercials and hard sell gimmickery. No wasteful competitive advertising. Cheap utilities. Etc. Etc.

What do you do --- dismiss all these IMPORTANT wonderful features as trivia? What the hell IS important to you, anyway? How DO you decide what's good and what's bad in any social-economic system?

In condemning the Soviets you do not come

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

What a great privilege it is to live in this beautiful town of Marion. Increasingly so, as we see all nature putting on her wardrobe of various greens highlighted by the reds and yellows of tulips and daffodils! Then, looking out at our exquisite harbor noticing the return of yachts and sailboats which bring much joy to young and old. Our world seems blessedly distant from wars and terrorism - unless we waste too much time on TV.

A word of thank you to the VFW - who always work hard to remember Memorial Day and especially the part played to remind

THE PEARL

Wonderful nature offers us a fascinating Gem, the PEARL.

The pearl is universally loved and admired. It has been said that "nothing can be added to fine pearls to make them more beautiful, except a lovely woman."

Pearls are the only birthstone of organic origin. They are formed by a salt water mollusc, known as Pinctada (completely different from the edible oyster) found in the Persian Gulf, Japan, The South Seas and the coastal waters of Australia.

Pearls may be caused by a bit of foreign matter, a grain of sand perhaps, being introduced into the soft body of the organism. Unable to expel it, the Oyster protects itself by coating the intruding particle with successive layers of Nacre and Aragonite. Native divers bring up the shells and thousands may be examined in order to find a few pearls. The pearls obtained are graded and valued according to their size, shape and color and lustre. It could take twenty years or more to build one fine perfectly matched necklace.

"Cultured Pearls"

The cultured pearl, which is seen most often today in jewelry stores, is created by forcibly introducing a mother-of-pearl "seed" into the flesh of pearl-bearing molluscs. They are then placed at the proper ocean depth for one to three years to complete their natural process. This technique was first developed in Japan. Pearls grown this way match the natural Oriental Gem in lustre and beauty. The pearls most in demand are the nearly white or rose (slightly pinkish); in some countries those with body tints of yellow, green, blue, lavender, caramel, grey or black are preferred.

"Imitation Pearls"

Considerably less expensive, and not approximating the natural or the cultured pearls for beauty, are the imitation pearls formed by dipping glass beads into a special fish scale solution. Since this is only a surface coating, the life of imitation pearls is limited.

us of our servicemen who fought and died in our various wars from the Civil War right up to the Vietnam Era War. Each grave is carefully marked by them and a new U.S. flag placed at the veteran's grave. And the memorials are updated with geraniums and flags as well. And a parade to the various cemeteries follows.

On the Fourth of July they again work hard to present for us all a parade celebrating the birthday of the U.S.A. Others in our town make it a festive day with the excellent Horse Show which follows the parade at Washburn Park.

So - three cheers to the VFW for all this and their other work encouraging patriotism in our schools, helping get funds for our ambulance and our library - just to mention a few. God bless you - and thanks a lot.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL TO BE FORMED

The Old Rochester Regional Junior High School expresses its intention to form a School Improvement Council consistent with the provisos of Chapter 188 of the Acts of 1985. The Council will be comprised of the Principal, three teachers, two parents of students in our school (1986-1987) and one community representative (in our case, a student representative).

The Council is provided with an opportunity to enrich the school's educational resources, through the expenditure of funds granted by the schools as well as through the council members' discussion and decision-making processes. Parents of students in either Grade 7 or Grade 8 during the 1986-1987 school year are being sought for nomination to our council. Should you wish to nominate such a parent or be nominated yourself, please convey this interest to the Principal, Mr. Gardner, at 758-4928.

A meeting for purposes of electing School Improvement Council members will be held at the Junior High School Wednesday evening, June 11th, at 7:00 p.m. in the Art Room.

COURT OF AWARDS AND COOKOUT HELD

Mattapoisett Brownie Troop #3 held an end-of-the-year cookout and Court of Awards on Saturday, May 31st. During the afternoon the girls played a wide game during which they learned about the history of Girl Scouting in Mattapoisett and new camping skills. Participation in this game helped them all complete the requirements for two patches they earned this year, the Quarter Century Patch and Ready, Set, Go, a camping patch.

For dinner the girls used their newly learned camp skills to build a fire and prepare grilled steak, baked potatoes, and fresh salad. Next week-end the troop will be staying at Girl Scout Camp Wind-in-the Pines for two nights.

The Court of Awards was planned by the

Lakeside Family Festival

TO BE HELD THIS WEEKEND

Saint John Neumann Parish invites all readers to Cathedral Camp, Middleboro Road, East Freetown on June 6, 7 and 8 for their second annual Lakeside Family Festival.

This year's Festival is bigger and better than last year. You will be delighted by the entertainement of the many musical groups such as the Stetson Aires, Joe Bolton and Friends, The Swansea Community Musicians, The Eccentrics, Anne-Marie, Paula and Company, The Nautical Notes, Janice Vinci Vocals, and the rock group Surge. There is a very fine dance performance Friday night by Mary's School of Dance.

This year's festival features a Road Race Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. and a mammoth Pancake Breakfast served under the Big Top on Sunday morning beginning at nine o'clock. Several local boat and camping vendors will have displays throughout the weekend.

Food from all corners of the world will be available from twelve food concession booths manned by parish volunteers. In addition, there will be ten booths where the young and old can enjoy the excitement of an old fashioned County Fair. Games include Turtle Races, Gold Fish Games, Tic Tac Toe, Basketball Shoots, and many, many more.

The ladies of the parish have prepared home-made delicacies to be served in the "Cake 'n' Cookie" section, and have handmade many items to be found at raffle tables at the Chinese Auction and the Arts and Craft Booth.

This year's midway will feature 8 different rides for the children. Lake Vegas will be open on Friday and Saturday nights until 11:00 p.m.

So, come on over and enjoy an entire weekend of fun!!! The excitement begins at 6:00 p.m Friday evening and closes at 5:00 p.m. on Sunday evening. The Festival closes at 11:00 p.m. on Friday and Saturday nights.

because he makes new a southeastern Massachusetts that the viewer assumes he knows completely. His paintings have a tight clarity and precision that combined with his fine color work produce memorable paintings. The Crapo Gallery exhibition will feature both landscapes and still lifes. The majority of pieces will be for sale.

David Loeffler Smith, Professor of Painting at the Swain School of Design, noted recently, "In an age in which so many of the younger painters are evolving an international imagery, where Italian visions can be exchanged with German visions, there is something exceptional about the painter who has looked close about him. Craig has made strong images out of New Bedford and the landscape surrounding the city."

A native of New Bedford, Craig Coggeshall attended Saturday classes at the Swain School of Design while in grammar school. After graduating from New Bedford High School in 1967, he enrolled at Swain majoring in painting. In 1971 he received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with top honors.

Mr. Coggeshall's previous exhibitions include two shows in 1985 at the former Second Street Art Exchange in New Bedford: Et. Al. and Twenty Finest Artists. He has also shown at the Marion Art Center and is a frequent and enthusiastically bid on contributor to the annual Great Swain Art Auction.

Craig P. Coggeshall is married to printmaker Katherine Denoncourt, who has her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Swain. The Coggeshall's have two daughters. Since 1965

20th CENTURY GENRE PHOTOGRAPHY ON EXHIBIT

Chansonetta's Eye: The Genre Photography of Chansonetta Stanley Emmons (1858-1937), showing more than 50 images from the collection of Marious B. Peladeau and Samuel Pennington, is the first of five rotating exhibitions at the Heritage Plantation of Sandwich. The show opened May 11 and will run through June 15 in the lower gallery of the Shaker Round Barn.

Mrs. Emmons, a native of Maine, photographed rural New England of the early 20th century. She was characterized as a "quiet lady traveling about the rural countryside, preserving vignettes of early 20th century life which she realized would never by the same again".

It must be remembered that relatively few persons in the first thirty years of this century were photographing the "domestic vernacular" especially in northern New England. Although the Farm Security Administration (F.S.A.) during the Depression did an excellent job of documenting many sections of the nation, it almost completely ignored Maine. The result is that Mrs. Emmons' informal recording of this time is one of the few records left.

Many of her photographs were of relatives and close friends. She knew the rural people and was on familiar ground with the Maine countryside. She was a regular summer fixture in her native Franklin County, despite the fact that she later moved to Newton, Mass. Mrs. Emmons was born in Kingfield, Maine on December 30, 1858, the daughter of Solomon and Apphia (French) Stanley. The Stanleys were moderately prosperous landowner farmers. Chansonetta was the only girl in a family of seven children. At the age of 18 she was enrolled in the Western State Normal School at Farmington. Mrs. Emmons thought she wanted to be a teacher, but left wanting to become an artist. Seeking more knowledge and experience, she moved to Boston where she met and married James N.W. Emmons, a shoe store owner, on February 2, 1887. Unfortunately, she was widowed at 40 with a daughter, Dorothy, to support; yet, she turned to photography and oil painting as a vocation, neither of which she admitted brought in enough to support her. Her brothers, F.E. and F.O. Stanley, now millionaries because of their success with the Stanley dry plate and Stanley steamer, extended their financial support. It was in her brother's studio that she was originally introduced to photography.

Throughout her life she continued to paint in oils although photography had become her primary vocation. She was also known as a painter of "exquisite miniature portraits" on ivory, as well as an accomplished cutter of silhouettes.

Despite her primitive dark-room facilities, she became a competent printer of her negatives. Her universal use of natural light for all interior shots meant that open doors and windows were invariably a trademark of her photographs. There is no evidence that she ever used a flash apparatus or a light meter to assist her in gauging her exposure times. Pictures requiring time exposure were achieved by the simple method of counting off the seconds aloud.

In the mid-1920s to augment her income,

Mrs. Emmons made her best photographs into glass lantern slides so that they could be shown on the screen. The slide show which evolved was on the beauties and glories of rural New England, and it was given throughout eastern Massachusetts and the Franklin County area of Maine to women's groups and other social and civic organizations. It consisted, in its final form, of 103 lantern slides, all of them hand-tinted so they would project in color.

In her last years, Mrs. Emmons experimented with a new medium, wood block engraving in 1933, and she continued to make money painting in miniatures on ivory. She died in March 1937 and is buried in the family plot in Kingfield, Meine.

Less then 50 years after her death, she is nearly forgotten and her work is found in none of the major collections of American photography. The book, "Chansonetta, the Life and Photographs of Chansonetta Stanley Emmons, 1858-1937 by Marius B. Peladeau, is for sale at the Museum Store at the Heritage Plantation.

Membership, as well as admission tickets to the Plantation for the day, will be honored for this rotating exhibition and will include admission to all of the Museum buildings, exhibitions and grounds. Tickets are $5. for adults, children under 12, $2.; five and under are free.

"RE-CREATING THE PAST" OPENS JUNE 7

"Re-creating the Past", a new exhibit opening June 7th in Plimoth Plantation's Orientation Building, will enable visitors to better understand the research and analysis that are the foundations for the museum's re-created period environment. Each element within the exhibit explores an important source of information on 17th century life and describes how each is used by historians, anthropologists, archeologists and other experts to reconstitute a society that existed over three centuries ago. After seeing the exhibit, visitors will have learned to unravel the mysteries of the past using the tools and resources of a variety of academic disciplines. The exhibit draws upon the metaphor of scholar as detective to communicate key concepts to a lay audience.

This display dramatically demonstrates how archeologists conduct site investigations, and what types of evidence are obtained from scrutinizing the trash pits and abandoned wells of past civilizations. Attention is also given to how 17th century genre paintings may be "read" to reveal important information about the lifestyles depicted.
